

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to advise you not to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

Please leave the current rules in effect.

Think about it the next time you wait a few hours to board and then have someone seated on both sides of you "chat" for a couple of hours. I always say "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." That applies to the relaxation of the current rules.

Thank you for your consideration on this matter.

Sincerely,

Paula Kay Entwistle
